

MAXWELL TREE

MATT MacDOUGALL/Boy Goes to the City: If you're a kid from Canada that relocates to Nashville and wants to make off kilter jazz, it's a smart move to hook up with Jeff Coffin who not only brings his beard to the session but a box full of chops and tricks to make sure the record isn't something you can use multiple copies of to balance wobbly table legs. With a distinct Brooklyn feel running through things, the young and restless that fancy themselves jazzbos can nod and groove to this neo Miles date with a guitarist leading the way all night long.
